

Our vision for Glen Hills...

At Glen Hills we aim to provide a safe, happy and enriched learning environment which enables each child to reach his/her full potential by:-

- Working as a team comprising of children, staff, parents, governors, outside agencies and visitors;
- Valuing the contribution of each individual within that team;
- Providing a knowledge engaged curriculum building on knowledge, skills, character, understanding and vocabulary;
- Promoting high standards of behaviour and attitudes;
- Showing and encouraging respect and mutual tolerance for the school community as well as each other;
- Promoting equality of opportunity regardless of race, religion, gender, social background or ability;
- Promoting links with other schools as well as the local and wider community;
- Recognising needs and wellbeing of all.

As a result of such an environment we hope our children will:

- be confident and at ease with themselves and others;
- become independent, resilient, tolerant and self-motivated;
- have respect for themselves, each other and the environment;
- be valued as an individual and as a member of the community, both within school and beyond.

A welcome from our Headteacher Mrs Wesley

Dear Parents,

Welcome to Glen Hills!

We hope that you find the answers to all of your questions on our website. Should you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact the school.

At Glen Hills, not only do we strive to achieve the highest level in literacy, numeracy and an all-round education, but we also ensure your children are safe, happy and contribute to our high standards of behaviour.

Establishing vital links between yourselves and the school is of paramount importance to all at Glen Hills and indeed, we welcome parents into school.

The hard work and dedication of the staff, governors, parents and pupils is highlighted in our last OFSTED report (October 2018) where the school was judged to be good with outstanding elements and on average, our pupils leave Glen Hills above and well above the national average in all areas.

Our motto - 'Education today for tomorrow'- speaks volumes; we want our pupils to have an amazing experience at our school and leave fully prepared for the next stage in their education!

Yours sincerely,

Mrs R Wesley

Our curriculum - an overview

When planning a curriculum Glen Hills recognises the wide social and economic backgrounds of our families. The school is on the Leicester City boundary and although the catchment area is predominantly private housing a significant number of our pupils are out-of-catchment from two established City areas containing considerable council housing on the Southern Western boundary of the City of Leicester. Our aim is to offer an aspirational, enriched, challenging and ambitious curriculum to all our pupils to provide them with the knowledge, skills, understanding, character and vocabulary to succeed as lifelong learners. Educate today, for tomorrow. The enriched experiences link with our Route to Resilience character work which underpins the development of our pupils - allowing pupils to be confident lifelong learners with an enjoyment for school and aspirations for the future.

Happy motivated and safe pupils, will be successful pupils!
